Raps Nixon for Words About Wallace

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New York Gov. Nelson A.
Rockefeller said refusal by his Republican presidential rival Richard M. Nixon to repudiate a suggestion that George Wallace join the GOP would be "the death knell of the Republican party in the next election."

Nixon's Southern campaign coordinator, Howard "Bo" Cal-away, had repeated earlier Monday his view that the Republican side is where third party presidential candidate Wallace "ought to be."

Nixon had no comment and his aides have said Rockefeller's charges would not be answered.

But Rockefeller accused Nixon of remaining silent because the former vice president's presidential strategy "depends on getting the southern vote and Mr. Wallace is cutting in on his strength."

On the Democratic side, aides say Vice President Hubert H.
Humphrey is concerned that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy might break party ranks and lead a third party if he loses the Democratic presidential nomination.

McCarthy has specifically denied any such intention, saying:
"I have stressed from the beginning that I had in mind to work this out within the Democratic party."

The speculation by the Humphrey camp was based on Mc-Carthy's refusal to say he could support the vice president as the party's presidential nominee.

A leader of last winter's "Dump Johnson" movement, meanwhile, said prominent anti-war figures plan an emergency meeting in Chicago next Sunday on promoting the nomination of McCarthy or some other anti-war candidate.

Allard K. Lowenstein, a Democratic congressional candidate, said the meeting has no official connection with McCarthy's presidential campaign.

But a spokesman for Lowenstein said McCarthy had agreed to address the meeting.

Lowenstein was a New York leader of a movement to deny the Democratic nomination to President Johnson before Johnson announced he was not a candidate. The movement evolved into the Coalition for a Democratic Alternative, which backs McCarthy.

In other political developments:
—Louisiana Gov. John J.
McKeithen is reported conducting a behind-the-scenes campaign to become Humphrey's vice presidential running mate on grounds he could draw votes which would otherwise go to Wallace.
—A Harris survey shows a Humphrey-Sen. Edward M.
Kennedy ticket would bring a Democratic landslide in November but Kennedy as the party's presidential nominee would not run as well against Nixon as would Humphrey or McCarthy.
—Secret Service men have been added to California Gov.
Ronald Reagan's security force even though he is not a declared presidential candidate. Secretary of the Treasury Henry C.
Fowler says Reagan's recent activities warrant the federal protection given candidates.

PROPOSAL FOR (from page one) pending legislation that would prohibit such sale of rifles and shotguns.

The President's new recommendations call for federal registration of guns to be recorded in a single computer center, and licensing under definite federal standards of all persons who own guns.

The licensing could be done by states if they meet the federal standards but the federal government would step in if they failed to establish the licensing in 10 years under the proposals.

Johnson said registration and licensing long have been accepted on automobiles and boats—even dogs and bicycles in some communities—and licenses are required to fish, hunt and drive.

Johnson said the federal licensing standards he proposes would prevent purchase or possession of firearms by criminals, dope addicts, alcoholics,
the mentally ill, and all others whose possession of guns would jeopardize public health, safety or welfare.

A group headed by former astronaut John Glenn Jr., meanwhile, announced a national effort to prod Congress to enact stronger gun control legislation.

He said his Emergency Committee for Gun Control is asking Americans to send millions of post cards, letters, telegrams and petitions—and make phone calls and personal visits—to congressmen urging legislation for gun registration and strict control of mail order sales.

Guns killed 198 people in the United States—including 114 homicides, 65 suicides and 19 accidental shootings—in the week ending midnight Sunday, an Associated Press survey showed.

Once threatened with extinction, the American elk now presents an overpopulation problem.

Minister to Support Street Gang

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Chicago minister has told a Senate subcommittee he will continue to support a street gang some of whose members have been accused of extorting money from neighborhood merchants and of forcing children to drop out of school.

The Rev. John R. Fry, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church who is to return to the witness stand today, said Monday he will repudiate that gang
—the Blackstone Rangers—only if the charges are proven, a possibility he said he doubts.

Fry also denied charges by former Ranger warlord George Rose at a hearing last week of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee that Fry advised the gang on criminal activities, that he passed on murder orders from a jailed gang leader and he allowed the church to be used as an arsenal for gang weapons and for marijuana parties.

Fry testified he acted primarily as legal adviser to the gang and had no direct knowledge of their finances, meetings or other activities.

He said his church paid from its youth education fund $25,000 in the last two years for bail bonds and legal fees for arrested members of the gang.

And he said that although he did not conduct formal prayer sessions with the Rangers, his meetings with gang members were "profoundly prayerful."

This brought a retort from subcommittee Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who asked: "Preacher, can't you do better than that?" McClellan conducted much of the intensive questioning.

Fry also denied committee charges that a $927,000 grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity was used to perpetuate and strengthen the gang structure and was primarily a bribe to buy racial peace.

He defended use of gang leaders as instructors in the program as a means of motivating gang members to learn. After the session, he told newsmen there "has been a wholesale reduction in the level of violence" in the community since the OEO program was initiated.

Fry also told the committee weapons seized from the church's walk-in vault during a police raid in November 1966 were police property. He said they had been stored there under an agreement between the Rangers, Chicago police and the U.S. Treasury Department in an attempt to disarm gangs.

Distribution of Pound Is What Counts
By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
AP Fashion Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — Fashion is fiscal anytime, as any man knows who pays the bills for his wife's clothes. But more so now.

With talk of gold, silver, the dollar and the pound, the style commentaries at the American Designer Series sound like an international monetary conference.

Of course, wherever there is a woman there is a discussion of the pound with the usual conclusion that it is never good to have too many. But designers at Monday's fall collection previews made it clear that this year the distribution of the pound is what really counts.

Some may settle on the bosom and some on the bottom, but the middle must stay little. For this is the season of the cinch. The waistline which was only beginning to ease into fashion six months ago is now the center of the designer's attention. Tiny belts have become the timid approach to midriff madness. Corsets are bolder.

Still when you are older, you're entitled to thicken, said White House designer Oollie Parnis, in effect, as she introduced some body skimming, slimming princess lines for daytime wear.

With her evening wear Miss Parnis confirmed what the more than 300 fashion writers here had already begun to suspect—that the American garment industry has a corner on the gold market.

Frugal Indian women toss their gold-woven saris into the melting pot when they are ready for something new. The Asian-inspired 14-carat gowns of Miss Parnis and the New York house of Christian Dior would sweeten such a pot considerably.

Silver, too, glittered among the golden glow fashioned the same pretty, fragile way, in the Parnis collection. For women who prefer to bank their fortunes on jewels there were gowns with gem-laden sleeves, dress yokes, and belts.

All designers begin their shows by lamenting the increasing numbers of dollars their dresses sell for, but Leo Narducci proved he was at least thinking thrifty by introducing a clan of pretty misses in pantsuits, suits, and evening gowns made of Scottish tartan plaid.

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

THE TROUBLE WITH PARENTS

Dear Helen: I've tried to understand my Dad, but I can't take his habits.

For example: Last Sunday Mom made a pie. I had a small piece, so did she. The next morning, it was all gone! My Dad made a refrigerator raid as usual.

Mom makes cookies for us kids. Guess who eats them? Dad also makes a pig of himself at meals, spilling things, slurping up huge bites, etc. Then he burps all the time and never excuses himself. He's getting awfully fat. What can we do?

Dear Annoyed: Perhaps your mother can ease your Dad into an Overeaters Anonymous Club, or to a doctor who may crack down with a diet—which SHE must enforce.

Tell her how much his habits annoy and worry you, and let's hope she'll take it from there!

Dear Helen: When my mother gets mad, she throws things. If my father says a word to defend himself, she threatens to kill him. Once she even got out a knife. She gets mad over nothing, but tells her doctor that Dad starts it all. The doctor says it's nerves, but we think she's going out of her mind. She's a coin artist, and has out-siders fooled.

She has run around on Dad several times. Once he caught her. He has had a bad heart attack, but Mother calls his medicine "dope," and hides it, insisting there's nothing wrong with him. She's nagging him into another attack, and driving us all out of our tree.

We think Dad has grounds for divorce. Don't you?—SCARED AND WORRIED

Dear S and W: It isn't what YOU think, but what your father thinks, that counts. He's probably too loyal to desert a sick woman, and from your letter, I'd judge your mother "sick." A long truth-session with the doctor might result in something more effective than nerve pills.

Dear Helen: I have experienced a great thing. I liked this boy but he never even saw me. So I asked God to make him notice me. A good friendship developed.

Then I asked God, if it was time to forget this boy, and God answered yes. So I did. Now God and I are working on another.

derstand my Dad, but I can't take his habits.

For example: Last Sunday Mom made a pie. I had a small piece, so did she. The next morning, it was all gone! My Dad made a refrigerator raid as usual.

Mom makes cookies for us kids. Guess who eats them? Dad also makes a pig of himself at meals, spilling things, slurping up huge bites, etc. Then he burps all the time and never excuses himself. He's getting awfully fat. What can we do?

Dear Annoyed: Perhaps your mother can ease your Dad into an Overeaters Anonymous Club, or to a doctor who may crack down with a diet—which SHE must enforce.

Tell her how much his habits annoy and worry you, and let's hope she'll take it from there!

Dear Helen: When my mother gets mad, she throws things. If my father says a word to defend himself, she threatens to kill him. Once she even got out a knife. She gets mad over nothing, but tells her doctor that Dad starts it all. The doctor says it's nerves, but we think she's going out of her mind. She's a coin artist, and has out-siders fooled.

She has run around on Dad several times. Once he caught her. He has had a bad heart attack, but Mother calls his medicine "dope," and hides it, insisting there's nothing wrong with him. She's nagging him into another attack, and driving us all out of our tree.

We think Dad has grounds for divorce. Don't you?—SCARED AND WORRIED

Dear S and W: It isn't what YOU think, but what your father thinks, that counts. He's probably too loyal to desert a sick woman, and from your letter, I'd judge your mother "sick." A long truth-session with the doctor might result in something more effective than nerve pills.

Dear Helen: I have experienced a great thing. I liked this boy but he never even saw me. So I asked God to make him notice me. A good friendship developed.

Then I asked God, if it was time to forget this boy, and God answered yes. So I did. Now God and I are working on another.

May Handles the Mets With Ease

Associated Press Sports Writer
Lee May of the Cincinnati Reds experimented around a little more with his batting stance Monday night. Consequently the New York Mets still were wondering today whether a first division stand really is an impossible dream.

May put the Mets' opportunity to reach the .500 level and the first division for the first time ever this late in the season in jeopardy with a three-run homer in the sixth. Then he squelched everything with a run-scoring triple in the 11th that gave Cincinnati a 6-5 victory.

Chicago suffered its fourth straight loss at Houston 3-1 in the only other National League game. Pittsburgh at St. Louis was rained out, and all other league teams were idle.

Detroit trounced Cleveland 14-2, Minnesota edged Chicago 1-0 in a game called after five because of rain and Oakland defeated California 3-2 in the American League.

"I've come up with this new stance," said May after his blow deprived New York of its third chance in recent days to win as many as it has lost.

"I think it's really helping me; I've been doing real well recently. On right-handed pitchers, I open my stance and I can hit the outside pitch better. On left-handers, I tighten my stance and wait until the last possible second."

May did just that off lefty reliever Bill Short in lining the triple down the right field line that sent in Johnny Bench, who had singled.

The Mets had trailed 5-2 with two out in the ninth, but Ed Charles' two-run single capped a rally that sent it into extra innings.

A walk, a pinch single by Ed Kranepool and Bud Harrelson's sacrifice fly produced one run. Ken Boswell's single and J.C. Martin's infield hit loaded the bases for Charles, who had singled home a run in the eighth, tied it.

Houston's Larry Dierker had some difficulties with Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams, but the rest of the Cubs were a breeze for the young right-hander who won his seventh after becoming the majors' first 10-game loser last week.

Beckert had three hits and Williams two—including two each in the fourth when the Cubs picked up their only run. But after that outburst, Dierker permitted only one other man to reach first.

The Astros, winning their third in four games, wasted little time in scoring all of their runs in the third.

Rusty Staub singled in one after Dick Simpson walked and moved to third on Hector Torres' single. Jim Wynn's sacrifice fly accounted for another before Denis Menke's triple.

Frazier Is Easy Winner Over Ramos

by MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Frazier, looking more and more like another Rocky Marciano, next may take on Jimmy Ellis in a fight-off for the heavy-weight title after his explosive, second round conquest of Mexico's fiery Manuel Ramos.

Frazier retained his five-state version of the heavyweight title after six minutes of thrilling action at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Even in losing, the hard-hitting, aggressive Mexican champion may be a winner—winner of some more big pay days. He could wind up against either king-sized Buster Mathis or former two-time heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson in the Garden.

Frazier, winner of all 21 of his pro fights, 19 of them by knockouts, was staggered by a right hand to the head in the first round before he rallied to wobble his foe late in the round and then drop him twice in the second round.

Referee Art Mercante stopped the fight after the bell had ended the second round. The 6-foot-3 Mexican had absorbed a savage, relentless body and head pounding and had been down for counts of nine and seven. The second count went on after the round had ended, according to the rules.

Under New York rules it was scored as a second-round technical knockout.

Ramos, the 4-1 underdog, said later in his dressing room that he had taken enough.

"I knew Frazier could punch but I didn't know he could punch so fast," said Ramos, whose eyes were puffed and discolored. "I thought it was impossible for me to godown."

"I knew my only chance was to punch with him. I know I hurt him in the first round."

That he did. He thrilled the crowd of 10,785, which paid $121,302 for the televised fight, by gamely trading punches with the ever-pressing Frazier and then by wobbling him with a solid right to the head.

"That's the first time I've ever been hit that hard," said Frazier, who has been floored three times in his career. "He can punch, I'll tell you that. I was really shook, but when you're in condition you can shake it off. Retaliate—that's the best defense for the shot I took."

"I won't fight for a full year unless I can get Cassius Clay or Jimmy Ellis," said Frazier, recognized as world champion in New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Massachusetts and Maine. Ellis, of Louisville, Ky., is recognized as world champion by the World Boxing Association. Clay, still appealing his conviction for avoiding military induction, is considered champion in some parts of the world.

Ramos, 208 to Frazier's 203, had his winning streak snapped at 15. His record is 20-7-2. Frazier matched the retired Marciano's pace of 19 kayos in his first 21 fights.

Grand Slams Break Slump by Northrup

CLEVELAND (AP) — Jim Northrup seemed as pleased about breaking out of his hitting slump as he was with the two grand slam home runs he hit to lead the Detroit Tigers to a 14-3 rout of the Cleveland Indians Monday night.

"That's a heckuva way to come out of a slump isn't it?" inquired the tall, slim outfielder who had just tied a major league record. "I haven't been hitting for two weeks."

Northrup said he was just trying to get a fly ball when he hit his first grand slam in six-run fifth inning off one of Eddie Fisher's knuckleballs.

"The second time, I was thinking more of myself," he continued. "I said to myself, 'Here's your chance to tie the record.'"

His second grand slam came off a fastball by Billy Rohr in the sixth inning, when the Tigers scored five runs.

Northrup, a left-handed batter, said his homer off Rohr, a southpaw, came as no surprise because he hits left-handers pretty well, "but I haven't been hitting anybody good this year."

Northrup, who has six career grand slams, is the seventh player to hit two in one game. However, Baltimore's Jim Gentile was the only one of the previous six to do it in successive innings. He hit grand slams in the first and second innings of a 1961 game.

Detroit's Northrup Explodes

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer
Detroit's Jim Northrup has swapped his needle for a cannon ... and turned the Indian reservation into a private artillery range.

Northrup, an unsuccessful bench jockey during Sunday's doubleheader split with Cleveland, exploded from a long slump and tied a major league record Monday night by hitting two grand slam homers as the American League leading the Tigers shelled the second place Indians 14-3.

Elsewhere, Reggie Jackson's three-run homer and Ed Sprague's brilliant relief pitching carried Oakland past California 3-2 and Minnesota nipped Chicago 1-0 behind Dean Chance in a rain-curtailed game.

In the National League, Houston trimmed the Chicago Cubs 3-1 and Cincinnati shaded the New York Mets 6-5 in 11 innings.

Northrup spent the first game of Sunday's twin bill needing Luis Tiant from the dugout ... and drawing an O-for-4 blank as the Cleveland right-hander tamed the Tigers 3-0.

"I haven't been hitting a lick, and I have to do something," he explained after another futile at-bat in the nightcap sent his batting average sagging to .225.

The Detroit outfielder came up in the first inning Monday night with the bases jammed ... and rookie Mike Paul struck him out. Northrup fanned again in the third before getting another bases-loaded chance with knuckleballer Eddie Fisher pitching for the Indians.

He drilled Fisher's first offering over the right field fence, then unloaded another first-pitch grand slam off southpaw Hill Rohr in the sixth, tying the two-in-one-game mark previously shared by six others. Of the six, only Baltimore's Jim Gentile, in 1961, had hit a pair in successive innings.

When Northrup came up again in the eighth, reliever Willie Smith walked him on four pitches.

"That's a heckuva way to come out of a slump, isn't it," cracked Northrup, who has three bases-loaded blasts among his 10 homers this year and six career grand slams. "I haven't been hitting for two weeks."

Northrup's eight RBI and Jim Price's first major league homer helped Denny McLain breeze to his 13th victory in 15 decisions and sent the Tigers 7½ lengths ahead of the AL pack.

Jackson's sixth inning homer erased a 2-0 California lead and John "Blue Moon" Odom took a four-hitter into the ninth before two walks forced his exit. Sprague, a side-wheeling rookie, took over and walked Leo Rodriguez on four pitches, filling the bases with nobody out.

Sprague then got Bubba Morton to tap into a force at the plate before Bob Rodgers grounded into a game-ending double play.

California's Rick Clark held the A's hitless until the sixth, when Rick Monday walked, Sal Bando singled and Jackson smashed his eighth homer over the center field fence. The loss was Clark's eighth without a victory.

John Roseboro's fourth-inning single off Bob Priddy scored Bob Allison, who had singled and stolen second, with the only Roy Emerson of Australia; sixth-seeded Manuel Santana of Spain; seventh-seeded Lew Hoof of Australia, and ninth-seeded Dennis Ralston of Los Angeles all won their matches.

Eighth-seeded Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles did not start his match.

Boots Day stroked back-to-back singles.

The Travelers threatened in the eighth when two runners reached base on singles before Dick James retired the next two. Then Mike Christino singled and Devanon attempted to score from second but was thrown out at the plate.

Amarillo put its game against Memphis on ice early by scoring five runs in the first inning. The Giants produced the outburst by getting only two singles, but a pair of errors by the Blues opened the gates.

Ron Bryant retired 19 of the last 20 Memphis batters he faced.

In the only other league action Albuquerque tripped Dallas-Fort Worth 5-4 in 10 innings. The El Paso-Shreveport game was rained out.

Arkansas' lone run came in the sixth when Jerry Devanon walked and Leroy Lee and

ACTION AND REACTION—Scoring runs isn't the easiest feat in baseball these days, as Oakland's Reggie Jackson (left) will attest. However, Tony Oliva of Minnesota finds getting on base is easy enough as he falls to the ground after being beamed.

Open Play at Wimbledon For First Time

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Tennis may be open for the first time at Wimbledon but the rules stayed closed tight today for the world's top girl players—all-white outfits with only a speck or two of color.

In this historic championship, with professionals and amateurs battling together for the biggest prestige titles in the game, English decorum still kept to the fore in the department of feminine fashion.

Designer Teddy Tinling, once denounced for bringing "sin and vulgarity" to Wimbledon by allowing Gussie Moran to play in lace bloomers 19 years ago, has bowed this time to the Wimbledon style.

"Our time for really gorgeously colored tennis dresses will come," Tinling said—"Perhaps in 20 years."

In the meantime, he has at-tired more than 60 girl players this year in smart little tennis frocks that could hardly offend even the most rules-conscious Wimbledon official.

Tinling's soberly designed all-white dresses were on display today in the traditional ladies day following the men's singles matches that kick off the two-week festival of lawn tennis.

Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., is defending her women's singles title for the first time as a professional. Her first match is against Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., who played well in the recent Wightman Cup series.

Top-seeded Billie Jean is bidding for her third straight title. Her great rival for the title is Australia's Mrs. Margaret Court, another two-time Wimbledon winner. Mrs. Court, the former Margaret Smith, plays Mrs. Annette Du Plooy of South Africa in her opening match.

Nancy Richey of San Angelo, Tex., seeded third, meets Maryna Godwin of South Africa in the opening round.

There were no upsets in Monday's opening play in the men's singles—a day plagued by rain and bad weather.

Top-seeded Rod Laver and second-seeded Ken Rosewall, both of Australia, won their singles without too much cause for concern.

Third-seeded Andres Gimeno of Spain; fourth-seeded John Newcombe of Australia, the defending champion; fifth-seeded Roy Emerson of Australia; sixth-seeded Manuel Santana of Spain; seventh-seeded Lew Hoof of Australia, and ninth-seeded Dennis Ralston of Los Angeles all won their matches.

Eighth-seeded Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles did not start his match.

Boots Day stroked back-to-back singles.

The Travelers threatened in the eighth when two runners reached base on singles before Dick James retired the next two. Then Mike Christino singled and Devanon attempted to score from second but was thrown out at the plate.

Amarillo put its game against Memphis on ice early by scoring five runs in the first inning. The Giants produced the outburst by getting only two singles, but a pair of errors by the Blues opened the gates.

Ron Bryant retired 19 of the last 20 Memphis batters he faced.

In the only other league action Albuquerque tripped Dallas-Fort Worth 5-4 in 10 innings. The El Paso-Shreveport game was rained out.

Arkansas' lone run came in the sixth when Jerry Devanon walked and Leroy Lee and

The Happy Hombre

Until his Mexican origins were firmly implanted on the public ken, new Open champion Lee Trevino's biggest problem on tour was warding off the paisanos who adopted him as one of their own. The Italian admirers insisted on playing him with spaghetti, and Lee doesn't dig pasta, but he went along to be a good guy. . . .

At the rain-elongated Westchester Classic last year, the squat senior was escorted every night to Risoli's in Harrison. Up to his bulging tummy in meat sauce, he managed to duck out a couple of nights before the final round. Joe Risoli spotted him on the practice tee next afternoon and asked, "Where you been?" . . . Trevino, who was about to collect the biggest check of his young career ($8,150), said, "Mr. Joe, when you shoot 67 and 68, you don't get spaghetti dinners. You're asked out for steak." . . .

Trevino's sudden success has brought out the alliterative urge in all writers. He's known, among other things, as the happy hombre, amiable amigo, smiling senior, carefree caballero and just plain pancho. "I speak only a little Spanish," he admits, "except in El Paso, where you can't get gas at a filling station unless you speak Spanish." What he digs most are the dogs at the track across the river in Juarez. "I feed them dogs pretty good," he smiles. . . .

What Lee has most in empathy with the galleries. He identifies with the weekend player. His swing isn't much different. "It looks," said Blackie Sherrod, "like he's tossing pebbles across water." He continually spits on his hands as he steps up to the tee or approaches the green. He spins his clubs, much like a tennis player twists his racket just before the shot. . . .

Even his superstitions are down to earth. The good luck souvenir given to him by some guy in the gallery at Champions has inscribed on it, "Monarch of Merri-ment." Before he went out to play his Friday round at the Open, he sent his young caddy back to the clubhouse to retrieve the bronze medallion before he'd go on the course. The photos asked him to kiss it. Lee flipped, "It doesn't look like my wife." And kissed it anyhow. . . .

To a veteran campaign follower like Fred Corcoran, the emergence of a kid from tortilla flats as the bright new personality of golf is reminiscent of the rise of Gene Sarazen almost half a century ago, when golf was hooty-toity, and a little Italian caddy dropped intruded into the world of Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen. . . .

The sad footnote to Trevino's popular championship was the blowup of Bert Yancey, the leader the first three rounds, a picture book player with a sounder swing than Trevino. His putting fell apart under the pressure, and the irony of that was Yancey's bold statement after his Saturday round: "I putted well today, and I'll putt well tomorrow. I always do." . . . Yancey also went out to play the crucial finale upset by the fact he had been relatively ignored all week by the press, which was enamored by Trevino's exuberant personality and featured the swarthy Mexican in its coverage. . . .

Or maybe it was the food which got to him. Bert's a pizza devotee. He could eat it every night, and did, until the eve of the final round, when friends persuaded him to switch to steak. . . .

Between you'n'me, there should be no doubt, however, of Lee Trevino's qualities as a champion, based on performance. He has played 22 rounds on the tour this year, or exactly one-third of his total of 66, with scores under 70. Final clincher on the new look in golf: One-third of the PGA tournaments played to date have found young pros achieving the first victories of their careers. Here's the list: Kermit Zarley, Tom Weiskopf, Tony Jacklin, Bob Lunn (twice), Larry Mowry, B. C. McLendon, Steve Reid and now Lee Trevino. . . .

Fort Smith Workers to Vote on Union

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Voters in Fort Smith will go to the polls on July 9 to decide whether the city should recognize the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFL-CIO) as the bargaining agent for striking municipal employees.

The special election was approved Monday by the city's board of directors which asked some 170 striking sanitation, water and street employees to return to work until the election.

The employees were to vote today on whether to return to work.

In another phase of the strike which began last week, Chancellor Warren Kimbrough turned down the city's request for an injunction to stop picketing by the employees.

Kimbrough called the case one of the most unusual in many aspects that he'd ever heard of.

During three hours of testimony, the city contended that the picketing constituted a threat to the health, safety and welfare of Fort Smith citizens but the attorney for the employees said this was untrue.

Kimbrough said that from the testimony it was difficult to ascertain whether the employees quit or were dismissed, whether they were on walk-out or strike and whether they actually had union representation.

The judge retained jurisdiction over the matter and said any acts of irresponsibility could result in additional decisions by him.

He urged the city officials and employees to select a meeting place "where you can sit down and work this out."

This Faculty Outnumbers Student Body

By JOHN BARBOUR
AP Newsfeatures Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — It happened on a rare day in an ordinary June full of graduation. Twenty-one unusual students followed their learned faculty down the tree-shaded walk to Caspary Auditorium.

No massed thousands in caps and gowns. No jammed football stadium or brass band. No pickets. No red white and blue bunting. No red white and blue speeches.

Only 21 young scholars taking the last steps toward their doctor of philosophy degrees. For all of them, it ended as it began — with taste and style a la Rockefeller.

It happened early this month. The graduating class was nearly all Phi Beta Kappa or its scientific counterpart Sigma Xi. The graduates walked double file, led and flanked by the faculty of Rockefeller University.

The faculty outnumbers the student body nearly 4 to 1, includes four Nobel Prize winners and other academic lights.

The procession marched informally, not to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance," but to selections by the 18th century English composer Anthony Holborne, played for this occasion by a quintet, the Venetian Brass.

In the dome-shaped auditorium, the procession stepped down the black carpeted center aisle between rows of plush red seats, students and teachers taking places on stage. There was no formal speech, no fancy rhetoric.

Instead, each faculty sponsor presented his student candidate. He spoke of him by his first or familiar name, talked of his research, its roots in scientific history, its aim for the future.

The professor recalled the successes and disappointments over the years they worked together, remembered their first meeting, or the patience of a student's wife, or the student's first confrontation with a laboratory mouse, or the quirks and habits only friends get to know.

It was all reflective of the close, constant interaction in this unique university on the East River, four city blocks of the best money can buy.

Thinks Sonic Boom Could Trouble Some

By FRANK E. CAREY
AP Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sonic booms from the proposed commercial supersonic transport could cause psychological problems for some people, a panel of scientists said today.

A subcommittee of the National Academy of Science based its conclusion on a study of sonic booms caused by military aircraft as they roar through the sound barrier.

The subcommittee called the outlook for the psychological effect of the giant commercial transports, as now proposed, "discouraging."

It urged intensified research aimed at designing a commercial SST that would generate "generally acceptable" sonic boom levels in overland flight.

It also urged stepped-up research to better assess levels acceptable to specialized groups of people, like hospital patients, infants, and people engaged in delicate work.

Research also should be undertaken, the subcommittee said, on the effects of sonic booms on sleep.

The subcommittee stressed that the discouraging picture would hold for any plans to employ the "current version" of the proposed SST.

It said that while all available evidence suggests a psychological hazard from sonic booms, studies indicate "little cause for concern" from the physiological — bodily — standpoint.

The subcommittee, headed by Prof. Raymond A. Bauer of Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration, said the research it suggests "is urgently needed irrespective of whether the current design of the supersonic transport flies over populated areas."

That Greasy Kid Stuff Is Out for Hair

By RUTH ANN VAUGHAN
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Greasy kid stuff, bald heads and their shaggy opposites are out for 1968, Arkansas hair styling experts say.

Approximately 170 members of the Arkansas Barbers Association attended an annual hair styling contest here this weekend to learn new flicks of the curls and to select creative stylists.

The group ended its meeting Monday.

Travis Hartwick, a North Little Rock designer armed with only shears and a razor, was named the No. 1 hair stylist, and Reggie Martin of Texarkana took honors in the free-styling division.

Hartwick, who won with his hair creation called the "razor-back," stressed the importance of good styling tailored for the individual.

He scoffed at the idea that long-shag, mop-type tresses are the trend.

"Long hair has never been in," Hartwick said. "And long hair isn't a style. You can't cut hair longer. How can we barbers have anything to do with long hair?"

The "Razor-back" style features hair about one and one-half inches long.

Hartwick said that a hair style is a man's personal matter.

"What one man can wear, another cannot wear," he said, adding that barbers do not establish trends.

Personalities such as the Beatles, the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and movie stars set the styles, he said.

"Bald heads are on their way out," Hartwick predicted. Wigs and hair pieces — factiously called "rugs" — are the answers to a man's baldness.

"Everybody's is concerned about hair now," Hartwick said, and a change in appearance can alter outlook on life.

He told of a sharecropper who remedied his "un-hair" problem with a wig and later became a business executive because his self-image had

OPEN WIDE for a comparison test to see who has fewer cavities. Three-year-old Michael Lankes of Austin, Tex., has a lot of growing ahead of him, but his feline friend has had it, for it's stuffed.

Draft Dodger Jailed Again

MEMPHIS (AP) — Paul Collins Williams, the Quaker and Naval Reservist who was arrested in Little Rock Saturday night for the second time for refusing to report to active duty, was detained in the brig Monday at Millington Naval Air Station here.

Williams was arrested March 19 for failing to report and was held for three months at Millington. Officers ordered his release and then ordered him to report to California for duty aboard a mine sweeper. Instead, he returned to Little Rock where he was arrested for the second time.

comes preparations to make it appear that way.

"Hair spray for men gives body and sheen," Satterfield said. He combed through his own hair to show masculine sprays aren't sticky and stiff like some hair sprays for women.

Hair coloring and hair straightening are gaining popularity, too, Hartwick said.

Winners in the state competition will compete for national honors July 27-28 at Miami, Fla.

Jack Lineback of Brinkley was named "Arkansas Barber of the Year." He's been trimming tresses for 63 years.

Once you take a close look at this '68 Impala Custom Coupe, chances are you won't care what other people's 1969's are going to look like. But we'll tell you anyway.

This particular model—with its formal "notchback" roof line—is the most popular one we build. Which means it's by far the most popular '68 anybody builds. Which means (and this is an open secret around Detroit these days) some other cars are going to look a lot like it in '69.

In fact, you'll probably see quite a few Chevrolet niceties on other people's "new" models. Things like disappearing windshield wipers and the protective vinyl insert that runs along the side molding of this year's Impala.

Frankly, we're kind of used to being borrowed from this way by now. Whether it's styling, riding comfort or just plain painstaking workmanship, we know that putting you first keeps us first. And we can't blame other carmakers for wanting to catch up.

But meantime the thing for you to do is drop down and have a talk with your Chevrolet dealer now. Great as our styling looks on this '68 Impala, we can't promise it's going to look so good on a '69 something else.

Happening now at your Chevrolet dealer's, a tremendous explosion of extra buying power. Only the leader could make it happen.

You've never seen savings like this on '68 Chevrolets and Chevilles. Save on popular V8 engines, automatic transmissions, whitewall tires—and more. Just take a look at these five bonus savings plans. Then see your Chevrolet dealer.

Bonus Savings Plan 1 Any Chevrolet or Chevelle with 200-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Powerglide and whitewalls.

Bonus Savings Plan 2 Any Chevrolet or Chevelle with 250-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Powerglide and whitewalls.

Bonus Savings Plan 3 Any big Chevrolet with 250-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Turbo Hydra-Matic and whitewalls.

Bonus Savings Plan 4 Now, for the first time ever, big savings on power disc brakes and power steering when you buy any Chevrolet or Chevelle with V8 engine.

Bonus Savings Plan 5 Buy any Chevrolet or Chevelle V8 two- or four-door hardtop model—save on vinyl top, electric clock, wheel covers and appearance guard items.

If you want to know what other people's 1969's are going to look like... take a look at the best liked '68.

All good bridge players are lucky. At least they make skill look like luck.

When North put down the dummy, he remarked, "I have all my bids." South might have replied, "At least you made all your bids, but you did not have them."

North's two spade raise was correct but it was also a minimum raise and he should have signed off from then on.

South saw all this but his attention was concentrated on finding the best way to bring the slam home. There was no way to avoid the loss of a club trick so he had to be lucky in both spades and hearts.

After South won with the diamond ace he led dummy's jack of spades. East played low and West dropped the 10. From then on it was just a matter of mopping up. South repeated the spade finesse, drew trumps, cashed one high heart just in case there might be a singleton queen and eventually took the heart finesse to make his contract.

A spectator asked, "Didn't you take the wrong percentage play when you led the jack of spades instead of a low one? Suppose East had held a singleton king?"

South replied, "In that case I would have thrown the contract out the window. As the cards actually lay, the low spade lead would have been fatal. I would have had to go back to dummy for a second spade finesse and would have been unable to get back again for the heart finesse. I was lucky to find the cards as they were but I had decided that West was more likely to hold a singleton spade than East. Of course, if the singleton spade had been the king, I could not have made my contract but the singleton spade turned out to be the 10. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Q—What is Crohn's disease?

My aunt was operated on for this two years ago but now another operation is necessary. Does it always recur?

A—Crohn's disease (regional ileitis or regional enteritis) is an inflammation of isolated areas of the ileum or lower part of the small intestine. In about one-third of the victims who have an acute attack, recovery is complete. In the rest, the disease becomes chronic. Almost half of those from whom the diseased areas are removed have recurrences.

Q—What causes ileitis? Is it the same as colitis? Is it hard for a doctor to detect it in its early stages? Is surgery necessary? Is there a specific diet for it? Are the nerves or the mentality damaged by it? Is it hereditary?

A—The cause is unknown but nervous tension and a diet high in roughage will aggravate it. It is similar to colitis, which is an inflammation of the colon or large intestine. It is not hard to diagnose if a doctor considers it in a patient who has chronic diarrhea, fever, loss of weight, abdominal cramps, blood in the stools and an iron-deficiency anemia, and if he rules out other conditions that produce similar findings.

A bland, low-residue diet is an important part of the treatment. The disease does not affect the victim's nerves or mentality and it is not hereditary.

Q—I have ileitis and am on a bland diet. Would smoking be harmful?

A—Although no direct connection has been shown, many patients with ileitis say they have less abdominal discomfort when they give up smoking.

Q—I had an operation 10 years ago for ileitis and have been taking Medrol ever since. Does it cause any bad side effects? Should I be taking calcium pills so that my bones won't get soft? I still get attacks of cramping and bloating. Can anything be done for this?

A—Since methylprednisolone (Medrol) is of the cortisome group of drugs, its prolonged use may cause moon face, peptic ulcer and loss of calcium from your bones.

Your treatment with this drug should be intermittent and you should be taking both calcium and phosphorus.

Not all persons with ileitis can be made comfortable, but careful medical supervision and, in addition to the other forms of treatment mentioned, the judicious use of antibiotics should make you reasonably comfortable most of the time.

YDC Denies Poll Was Endorsement

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)

A poll conducted by the state Young Democrats last fall that indicated YDC members' preference of Frank Whitbeck for governor is not an endorsement of Whitbeck, YDC president Don Trumbo said Saturday.

The statement was in response to an accusation by Miller of Newport, who ran unsuccessfully for YDC president last month.

Oiler charged that the poll violated the organization's constitution which prohibits the group from supporting the candidacy of anyone before he is nominated by the party.

The poll was conducted before anyone announced for governor and did not include such persons as gubernatorial hopeful Ted Boswell, Trumbo said.

"It's certainly true that a number of Young Democrats like Whitbeck, but it's also true that a lot of them like (Marion) Crank and Boswell," Trumbo said.

John Tyler was the first vice president to succeed to the presidency through the death of a president.

Grandson of Ike Working for Nixon

By FRANCES L. EWINE
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — David Eisenhower, 20-year-old grandson of the former president, has taken his first political job as national chairman of Youth for Nixon.

And he says he is "eager to get going" in his task of appealing to young people across the country on behalf of his future father-in-law, Republican presidential aspirant Richard M. Nixon.

David, tall, blue-eyed and shy of unruly brown hair, says he is back up his back on the Nixon campaign's youth.

Although the political campaign is familiar to him by acquaintance, Julie, 19, on the primary of his performance in a few months, Nixon pros rate the lad "a for the unpaid chairmanship."

Another asset was out by a Nixon headquarters secretary.

"He's got a beautiful smile," she said.

On a visit to the Washington office and post for Nixon Monday, David showed he also has ability to come up with a answer on practically any

He thinks Nixon "can bring about a quick termination of the war," the biggest campaign issue is "law and order" with the Johnson administration and the Supreme Court taking the blame for laxity; and the Poor People's campaign has the right aims but he's "somewhat apprehensive about their tactics."

David, a junior at Amherst College, and consequently deferred from the draft, said the campaign has helped his romance because he and Julie have been together more.

In fact, he said, they may move up their wedding date, originally planned for after both finish college.

"That was because we didn't know how our parents would react to it," David said. But their response has been "so overwhelming," that David and Julie probably will marry after the election.

David, a history major, now switching to political science, is taking a course at New York University this summer to lighten the load at Amherst in the fall "so I can take four or five days weekends" to campaign.

Julie is taking the fall semester off from Smith, but David would lose his draft deferment if he stopped his studies.

David hasn't had much experience speech-making, but it doesn't worry him. He's written one and plans to keep on writing his own speeches.

When they lift the campaign trail David and Julie will have a Secret Service escort—but it's not his. David had his own secret service detail for eight years while his grandfather was president and he rates the agents "very discreet—very nice. I have a lot of friends in the Secret Service."

Comilio Calogero was delivering pizzas when the accident occurred last Sept. 30. His neck was broken in the crash.

Speaking Monday at his home in Lynbrook, and still wearing a neck brace, the 33-year-old father of three said hundreds of people had watched him throw pizza dough into the air, in the traditions of his forebears in Palermo, Italy, whence he came five years ago.

He said pizzas "probably taste better" when the dough is kneaded by twirling it up in the air.

For three years Calogero had been employed as a chef at Cino's Pizzeria in this Long Island community, earning more than $100 a week. He was not sure what work he would turn to now, "but I won't take any chances," he said.

A tow truck allegedly went through a stop sign and struck a car which then collided with Calogero's delivery auto here. In addition to the broken neck, he suffered internal injuries and underwent surgery during 26 days in the hospital.

Calogero sued for $500,000. A state Supreme Court jury in Manhattan returned the $355,000 award Sunday.

Protection Against China Wins Round

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Monday rejected the Sentinel Antibalistic Missile program—so-called "thin" line of defense against a possible Red Chinese attack—has survived a major Senate challenge.

The Senate Monday rejected 52-34 a move to delay for a year authorization of $227.3 million to acquire sites and start work on the Sentinel program, expected to cost $5 billion to $7 billion over the next several years.

A move to strike it altogether from a $1.8 billion military construction bill was turned back 72-12.

The over-all construction bill was before the Senate for a vote today.

Although now keyed to the potential Red Chinese threat, the Sentinel system could become a vastly more expensive program against possible Soviet attack.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, urging delay, said the ultimate goal was a $50 billion system "that will be obsolete before it is ever completed."

But Minority Leader Everett Dirksen, conceding there were some questions about the program, said "Whenever there is any doubt . . . I'm going along with the security of this country."

While the AEM survived, several senators who supported it said they expected other areas of defense spending would be cut to meet the recently enacted congressional mandate for a $6-billion decrease in federal spending.

The cut, coupled with a 10 percent income surtax, is awaiting the President's signature.

Some members estimated the Defense Department would have to absorb up to half the $6 billion on programs not related to Vietnam.

The AEM installations, expected to be operational by the mid-1970s, in various areas of the country would combine advanced radar with Spartan missiles that would be designed to intercept enemy missiles.

Secret Service Men Guard Gov. Reagan

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — U.S. Secret Service men have been assigned to guard Gov. Ronald Reagan, a California favorite-son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The Secret Service men have been added to Reagan's own security force, and daily public tours of the governor's outer office have been canceled.

Legislation was passed after the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in Los Angeles June 5 providing Secret Service protection for all presidential candidates.

And last Friday Secretary of the Treasury Henry C. Fowler and an advisory committee on protection of candidates agreed that Reagan's activities warranted such protection for him

Roscoe C. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Boots) Smith Jr. of Hope, was named "Outstanding Young Educator of Dallas" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Classroom Teachers Association of Dallas.

This outstanding educators award was given after each school within the Dallas Independent School District submitted entries. This covers some 170 schools and each entry competed against 5,500 teachers. Only four awards were given.

He was also named Teacher of the Year by the John Henry Brown principal and PTA. Some accomplishment that helped Mr. Smith get the award included:

Building a Boy Scout Troop from nine outcasts to 287 working Scouts, a feat unequalled in all history of Scouting;

Student's work from Mr. Smith's class was approved by Dr. White's Anthology book;

Students from his class were selected to appear on television to demonstrate a way to filter germ stricken water, make it fit to drink, after this script, written by Mr. Smith, was chosen by State KRID Education Director and Consultants of the Dallas Independent School District;

Served as Teacher Specialist to the District;

Served on the textbook committee named by Supt. W. T. White;

Served as co-ordinator of the Project Affect, Summer School Program at John Henry Brown School;

Served in the capacity of Teacher-in-Charge for the Project Affect Summer program;

Served as Equipment Manager and Machine Specialist for the 1968 Title I Teacher Institute;

The Spelling Bee champion came from his room as did all runners up;

His 7B class won Symphony Trophy;

Miss John Henry Brown Queen is from the 7B class;

Virginia Jackson checked his 7th grade class in Sept. and spelling was only on 6th grade level; in March of the same year the check showed the class was spelling on the college level; most of the students gained three and four grades during the year with some making as much as 9th grade level in reading and 12th grade level in English;

Teachers in this area that will be attending the National Educational Association Convention in Dallas will meet Mr. Smith at the polling as he is assigned to help conduct the election on Sat. July 6.

He received his B.A. degree from Bishop College and his Masters from North Texas State in School administration. He made a grade A-average throughout college.

He recently turned down offers of positions as Scout Executive of Circle 10 Council and another as assistant manager of Glidden Paint Co. managed by Glen New.

during the campaign months, Seven security men met the governor at Sacramento airport Monday, Reagan told reporters he would just "go about my business as usual."

No one would say how many Secret Service men were assigned to Reagan and the governor's office refused to elaborate on the security measures.

Reagan's staff always has been conscious of security. Armed police stood atop the capitol roof overlooking Reagan's inauguration in January 1967.

Fears McCarthy May Head a Third Party

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is said by many supporters to be deeply concerned that Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy may break away from the Democratic ranks and lead a third party this fall.

The speculation has been fed by McCarthy's refusal to say he will support the vice president if his former political mentor wins the nomination—plus increasing signs that many of McCarthy's backers are not amenable to a reconciliation.

There was talk of a possible third party at the bruising Democratic Farmer Labor party convention in St. Paul, where the forces of the two Minnesota presidential contenders met head-on in the party convention, and Humphrey won.

However, McCarthy has denied any intention to lead his supporters out of the regular party. He told a news conference: "I have stressed from the beginning that I had in mind to work this out within the Democratic party and I didn't intend to lead a third party movement."

However, Geri Joseph, the Democratic national committee woman for Minnesota, said McCarthy candidates for national convention seats in her area had to swear they would not support Humphrey under any circumstances.

Key Humphrey people acknowledged their concern but say it is still too early to make any forecast, particularly in a year that has betrayed political soothsayers.

McCarthy's recent strong showing in the New York primary has heartened his supporters. However Humphrey strategists estimate privately that their man has enough delegate votes now to win the Democratic nomination on the first ballot.

McCarthy has said that he sees little choice between Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon, expected to win the Republican nomination, on the issue of Vietnam.

One Humphrey backer said, "I think a great deal will depend on who the Republicans nominate. If it's Richard Nixon I believe most of the Democratic liberals who see themselves as pretty dovish will return to the fold." But then he shrugged.

Another Humphrey source sees a good possibility of a return of the Democratic troubles in 1948.

That year southern Democrats, angered by the party's civil rights platform, broke away and ran Strom Thurmond as their presidential candidate under the Dixiecrat banner.

This year former Alabama Gov. George Wallace is running under a similar states rights banner.

Also in 1948, the Progressive party was formed on the left side of the political spectrum with former vice president Henry Wallace as the candidate. Despite the splintering in the Democratic party that year Harry S. Truman was returned to the White House.

Kenya Plays Havoc With the Movies

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Half of the movies showing in Nairobi are labeled "unsuitable for children under 10" or "for adults only." The U.S. and British films that were favorites of local fans have virtually disappeared.

"Wanted in Texas," an Italian Western now playing in town, has a total of 106 murders by knife or gun and winds up with the bad guy being shot in the kneecaps and left to the buzzards.

Since the Kenya Film Corp. took over import and distribution of all films six months ago, three of the capital's most popular theaters have closed. Many others operate on a day-to-day basis, hoping enough customers will show up.

Distribution of most British and American films is controlled by the Motion Picture Exporters' Association of America, which is reported demanding that KFC deposit dollars in New York before acquiring any of its films. Negotiations are still going on.

Thus no new U.S. or British films are brought in, and the moviegoer is limited to Italian Westerns and Asian offerings starring performers who are virtually unknown here.

President Andrew Jackson called the first national political convention in 1832.

Tornadoes Dance Across Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Tornadoes and strong wind danced across portions of Arkansas Monday afternoon destroying a school building near Hot Springs and injuring two persons in the Norfolk community when their house was demolished.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said the turbulent weather was the remains of tropical storm Candy as it pushed into south central Oklahoma, triggering a line of thunderstorms which moved northeastward across Arkansas.

A twister dipped out of a thunderstorm at 3:05 p.m. and destroyed the high school building at Cutter-Morning Star, located about five miles northeast of Hot Springs.

Officials gave a preliminary estimate of $100,000 damage to the building.

Injured at Norfolk were Jim Tilley and George Brown, 58, occupants of a house about three miles south of the Baxter County community.

A hospital spokesman at Mountain Home said Tilley was sent to a Little Rock hospital and that his condition was serious. Brown was treated and released, the spokesman said.

The tornado destroyed the house and two barns, uprooted trees and caused some damage to a cemetery, authorities said.

The Weather Bureau said it had received reports during the day of funnel clouds aloft near Hot Springs, Malvern, Sheridan, Mountain Home and Trumann.

No one was injured at the Cutter-Morning Star school although its superintendent, Doyle Henderson, and a student, Earlene Davis, were in the building at the time.

Debris from the school was scattered along U.S. 70, blocking the highway for more than an hour. The debris struck a passing tractor-trailer truck driven by James T. Harold, 58, of Scheuburg, Tex. Harold was not injured.

The winds also demolished a barn at Lakeside, just east of Hot Springs.

Winds destroyed a small storage shed, damaged a house trailer and uprooted trees near Trumann and roofs were lifted from some sheds and barns near Lake City in Craighead County.

Memphis Says Arkansas Costing City

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Welfare Commissioner Len Blaylock told the state Welfare Board Monday that Mayor Henry Loeb of Memphis was upset because of the number of hospital bills accumulated in his city by medically indigent Arkansans.

Blaylock said that Arkansans had accumulated bills totaling more than $95,000 at Memphis between Jan. 1 and mid-May, and that Loeb had told Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller that the city-support hospital was operating at a deficit of more than $81,000 during that period.

The commissioner said Arkansas had paid more than $12,000 to Memphis for Arkansas patients who had been approved by county welfare boards and that the patients had paid more than $2,200.

Blaylock added that about 60 per cent of the patients were young females hospitalized to give birth and that many of them wouldn't have been covered even if they had entered a hospital in Arkansas.

Blaylock also told the board — which met without a quorum present and thus conducted no official business — that he had asked three members of the state's congressional delegation to endorse a resolution that would appropriate about $80 million in additional funds for the food stamp program.

Blaylock said the money was needed so that persons trained to administer the program could be retained on the payroll.

The four board members were also shown a diagram of the proposed reorganization of the department — a plan that would divide the department into medical, programs, administrative services and food stamps and commodities distribution divisions.

Proposal for Federal Registration of All Guns Is Denounced

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has called for the federal registration of every privately owned gun in the nation and set off a controversy in Congress.

Johnson asked for the stricter gun control laws Monday in a strongly worded message to both the House and Senate. The White House said specific legislative proposals would follow.

Damage $1 Million in Prison Riot

By ALVIN ORTON JR., Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio National Guardsmen ordered into the riot-torn state penitentiary Monday assisted guards today in maintaining order after it was discovered that important keys were missing and presumed in the hands of inmates.

Prison officials were searching for the keys, confiscating weapons and planning to launch an intensive investigation into the riot and fire that caused an estimated $1-million damage and left 50 persons injured.

John McElroy, chief aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, said 150 guardsmen were being kept on duty inside the cellblocks and on the grounds of the huge complex in three shifts. He said an additional 800 troops remained on standby duty at nearby Ft. Hayes.

Prison guards, highway patrolman and Columbus police fought rampaging convicts for more than five hours Monday before restoring order. During the height of the riot inmates set eight fires that caused heavy damage to seven prison buildings, including the hospital.

Most of the injured suffered smoke inhalation and did not require hospitalization.

General rioting erupted after the first fire was set about 8:30 a.m. in the prison's print shop. Soon convicts were battling guards and police with baseball bats, homemade knives, scissors and golf clubs taken from a miniature golf course as fires began about the prison compound and burned unabated.

Five hours later Maury C. Koblenz, state corrections chief, said the situation had been brought under control and inmates were being returned to their cells. About that time 200 National Guardsmen were brought into the prison to relieve weary police.

No shots were fired during Monday's rioting.

Two of Every Three Persons Drive to Work But Very Few Walk

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Two out of three people in American cities above 100,000 population go to and from work by car. Only about 19 per cent journey by public transit. The rest walk.

Air conditioning is important to animals as well as people. It has been found that cows give more milk, hogs get fat quicker, and hens lay more eggs if their quarters are air conditioned.

Dental experts predict victory over tooth decay in another decade, but at present it is still probably more common than the common cold. All but two per cent of Americans suffer from it.

Once for ounce, and fact for fact, the U.S. newspaper is still perhaps the world's best bargain. Americans spend $2.2 billion yearly for daily and Sunday papers.

When is the best time to marry? Well, young lady, if you want to avoid divorce, June is your best bet. Girls married in that month have the fewest number of divorces. However, if you marry in January, February or March, you're chances of winding up with a divorce are above average.

Sikes, D-Fla., who said "the principal deduction to be drawn from the message is that there is a deplorable lack of law enforcement in this country."

Sikes is a former director of the National Rifle Association, the principal opponent of stringent gun controls, particularly the registration of weapons.

Also calling for stronger law enforcement and criticizing the gun control proposals were Reps. L. Mendell Rivers, D-S.C., and Howard W. Pollack, R-Alaska.

But Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., sponsor of a pending bill along the lines of Johnson's recommendations said the President "has answered the demand of the American people to head the menace of the gun traffic."

Congress already has passed legislation barring mail-order sale of pistols and Johnson called again for quick action on

Four Killed When Car Hits Ho

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four youths from Benton were killed early today when the car in which they were riding struck a horse on Interstate 30 south of Little Rock, crossed the median and collided with a tractor-trailer truck.

The Saline County Sheriff's Office said the accident happened near the Bryant-Bauxite overpass between Little Rock and Benton.

The victims were identified as Kay Wilson, Brenda Farrell, Sherene Eubanks and Bradley Maxey. Officers said the three girls were all about 18 years of age and Maxey, the driver, about 20.

Officers said the car was traveling south from Little Rock when it hit the horse, knocking out the car's headlights. The vehicle then rolled across the median into the path of the northbound truck driven by Ben Gonzales, 42, of Dallas, Tex.

Authorities said the truck was knocked to the side and the car was upside-down when it came to a stop. Gonzales suffered minor bruises, officers said.

Two of the victims were dead on arrival at the Saline Memorial Hospital in Benton and a third died minutes after reaching the hospital. Miss Eubanks died en route to a Little Rock hospital, officers said.

The pet boa, owned by 16-year old Cliff Dinges, is harmless, Dinges said. Residents have been advised to notify the police if they see the snake.

The Benton High School student isn't too optimistic about the boa's return.

"I don't think I'll ever see him again," he said. He speculated that the boa slithered across the street from his home into a thickly wooded area.

This is Dinges' second sad experience with boa constrictors. His first boa, a three-footer, was stolen, he said.

Just in case his pet doesn't come home, Dinges has another snake on order.

Peace Talks Continue at Slow Pace

PARIS (AP) — "We drink coffee as we do here... We speak of the weather, the climate, of food and the landscape."

Xuan Thuy, North Vietnam's chief negotiator at the Vietnam cease-fire talks was telling foreign newsmen about his coffee break conversations with U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman. When they talked for 40 minutes over the coffee cups last Wednesday, there was considerable speculation that they were getting down to some serious private discussion.

U.S. peace negotiators found no cause for cheer in Thuy's other remarks to the newsmen, in which he brushed aside the call from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for an immediate cease-fire and stuck firmly to Hanoi's stand that U.S. attacks on North Vietnam must stop before other peace issues can be discussed.

Thuy appeared before the Anglo-American Press Association Monday. He gave newsmen this report on the conversations:

Harriman said he was looking for a house and waiting for his wife to join him.

"At the last meeting, we took up the frequency of meetings and we agreed that there should be one meeting a week, on Wednesdays," Thuy said.

What U.S. officials called his "hard line" was reinforced by a declaration in the North Vietnamese army newspaper. It called Harriman "ridiculous, absurd, and arrogant," for demanding an end to the rocket bombardment of Saigon and curtailment of military operations if the United States stops bombing North Vietnam. The paper said attacks on Saigon would continue as long as it remains U.S. headquarters.

Thuy in his speech to the newsmen made a new appeal to world opinion "to continue to condemn the intensification of war crimes and aggression by American leaders" and to press the United States to end the bombing of the North unconditionally.

Presbyterians to Hear Two L.R. Ministers

Two outstanding Little Rock ministers will be coming to Hope the next two weeks to supply the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church, according to Arthur Wimmell, chairman of the pulpit supply committee.

The guest minister Sunday will be the Rev. James A. Mitchell, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church in Little Rock. Since being called there a year ago, Mr. Mitchell has inaugurated an open door policy, to serve residents of the whole community regardless as to their religious, racial or economic backgrounds.

This program was recently featured in an article in the Arkansas Gazette. It includes a day center for children of working mothers; a tutoring program for high school students needing help conducted by top scholarship boys and girls; a monthly meeting-banquet for all foreign students in the Little Rock area; a free store to supply necessities to families which have experienced misfortunes, and finally, a series of two-day camping experiences for underprivileged boys and girls. These camps are at Ferncliff, a Presbyterian owned camping and conference center.

"The Central Presbyterian Story" will be Mr. Mitchell's sermon subject for Sunday morning.

On Sunday, July 7, Dr. R. D. Adams, who is retiring June 30 after serving the First Presbyterian church in Little Rock for 36 years, will fill the pulpit and conduct Holy Communion. Dr. Adams came to Arkansas from New Jersey to teach in Arkansas College at Batesville. When the depression-plagued school year of 1932 ended, Dr. Adams accepted a temporary pastorate in Little Rock and it lasted for 36 years.

Judgement in Foreclosure
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley Monday granted the Samli Business Administration a $107,548 judgment in a mortgage foreclosure suit against the National Silica Co. of Nasco in Izard County and a Melbourne couple, Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Bursey.

In 1960, Bursey organized the company which owns a silica mine at Nasco. The judge ordered that the mining and processing equipment and 776 acres of land be sold at public auction if the judgment is not paid in 10 days.

Riot Guards Patrol Washington After the Poor City Is Closed

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guardsmen carrying riot control weapons patrolled the curfew-emptied streets of the nation's capital early today after disorders broke out following the forcible closing of Resurrection City.

District Mayor Walter Washington declared a state of emergency and called in 1,450 National Guardsmen Monday after unruly crowds of Negro youngsters hurled bottles and rocks at officers in the same area where riots occurred last April.

These measures, plus the extensive use of tear gas and the imposition of a dusk-to-dawn curfew appeared effective and there was relatively little damage. Police Chief John Layton reported 12 persons were arrested and one man wounded by a detective's bullet as he fled a looted liquor store.

Mayor Washington said late Monday there had been "a relatively small number of windows broken" and "very little looting."

"The amount of disorder and violence is very limited," added Public Safety Director Patrick Murphy. "I urged the mayor to impose the curfew. As a result, we were successful in clearing streets of crowds."

Mayor Washington said the curfew would be lifted "as soon as conditions are restored to normal."

Unlike the riots in April, when authorities drew stiff criticism from Congress and local merchants for not acting fast enough, National Guardsmen were on the streets within a few hours after the first signs that the day might not end as peacefully as it began.

Police were prepared for violence when 1,000 of them suddenly cordoned off Resurrection City, mud-soaked showplace of the Poor People's Campaign, at 9 a.m. Monday.

They needn't have been. In the hour and a half it took for 200 police to sweep through the 15-acre campsite checking each of the 540 plywood huts, 119 people were peacefully arrested.

At about the same time, The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, toothbrush in pocket, led a march in the Capitol, where 224 equally peaceful arrests were made. Police gave everyone who did not want to be arrested a chance to leave.

Trouble, when it came, began three miles away at 14th and U streets, a run-down, honky-tonk Negro neighborhood. The Poor People's Campaign headquarters is in a building on the corner.

Crowds gathering since early afternoon in an extremely hot and muggy day grew unruly toward evening.

Several liquor and drug store windows were broken and at least one gasoline bomb fire was set before police routed people with tear gas.

Congress now will respond only to its own self-interest, the Rev. Young told a news conference.

19 Americans Killed in Plane Crashes

By GEORGE ESPEY
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Nineteen American and 19 Thai soldiers were killed in five helicopter crashes around Saigon today and Monday as allied forces intensified their drive to thwart another Viet Cong attack on the South Vietnamese capital.

Another two American fliers were missing in North Vietnam following the downing Monday, due to "unknown causes" of a Navy A6 Intruder from the carrier Enterprise. It was the 859th U.S. plane reported down in combat over the North.

The U.S. Command said four of the helicopter crashes were accidental. The fifth touched off a 12-hour battle in which American infantrymen said they killed 46 Viet Cong troops 19 miles southwest of Saigon.

The American dead included the commander of an infantry battalion and his executive officer.

The worst crash occurred at 7:55 a.m. today as an armada of U.S. Army helicopters was ferrying troops of the Royal Thai Army on a combat assault 16 miles east-southeast of Saigon.

Speeding through poor weather with the clouds down to 200-300 feet and visibility only half a mile, two of the UH1 helicopters collided in the air. The resulting explosion knocked down a third one flying close by.

All 12 American crewmen and their 19 Thai passengers were killed and the three helicopters were destroyed.

A U.S. spokesman said the combat sweep was suspended as helicopters and recovery teams were rushed into the area.

A fourth helicopter was shot down by enemy ground fire 19 miles southwest of Saigon Monday while looking for Viet Cong troop positions. An hour later, U.S. infantrymen from the 9th Division on their way to the downed chopper ran into an enemy force entrenched in bunkers in the area.

Nearly 400 more American soldiers were rushed up as helicopter gunships and artillery blasted the enemy bunkers. U.S. Headquarters said a sweep of the battlefield after the 12-hour battle turned up 46 enemy bodies and 19 weapons.

Both helicopter crewmen had been killed, and five American infantrymen were killed and nine were wounded in the ground action.

The fifth helicopter went down Monday afternoon in the Nha Be River, nine miles southeast of Saigon. Five Army men were killed, including the pilot, and a battalion commander and his executive officer directing ground troops sweeping the area.

Four other men were injured: Three Army men and a cameraman for the American Broadcasting Co. Jim Decker, 34, of Shreveport, La., who had been wounded twice previously in battle. This time he suffered severe lacerations of both ears and leg bruises.

The helicopter was believed to have crashed because of engine trouble. Decker said the engine began to sputter over the river and he heard no shots.
